Dear Families

It's been a busy week with lots of Book Week activities happening across the school. Thank you to everyone who joined in the fun on Thursday and dressed up as their favourite book character or as a word.

We have another opportunity to dress up on Friday 15th March for Red Nose Day. We would like everyone to wear something red if they would like to join in. You can donate, to Comic Relief on the Linden Lodge Red Nose Just Giving page here

British Science Week starts today. It is a ten-day celebration of science, technology, engineering and maths that takes place between 8 - 17 March. The theme for this year is 'Time' which we will incorporate it into our daily activities and learning.

Our science department has already had a very exciting week and we just have to give you all a quacking update that one of our duckling eggs has hatched! Next week classes will be able to visit the ducklings during a 'Duck Meet & Tweet'.

Have a lovely weekend.

SH@LL did it again!!

A huge thank you to all the Brothers and Sisters who joined us for the Siblings event this past Sunday, and to the SH@LL Committee for your great ideas when it came to organising the day :)

Lots of fun was had by all searching for Easter eggs, playing tennis and baking some delicious cinnamon rolls. It was also an opportunity to have fun together and build friendships that could offer support into the future.

SH@LL is a group for siblings (or other young relatives) run by siblings and anyone is welcome to join. If your child would like to join the SH@LL committee to help organise fun events like these in the future, please let C@LL know.

Email us on: communityatlindenlodge@gmail.com

Please click on the link below to book a place or alternatively parents can email info@queensclubfoundation.co.uk and we will register their child for the event and answer any further questions.

The festival will be in our large indoor Junior Centre at The Queen's Club and parents or carers are invited to watch in a separate area through glass doors. There is limited space for siblings as well.

We will offer free coffee and tea for parents, juice and biscuits for the children and a little party bag at the end with motivational gifts.

Family Day: Marvellous Me for families of deaf children on Saturday 21st September 2024 from 12pm-4pm at the British Library in London

Following on from the huge success of our last Family Day: Our World on 23rd September last year, we have arranged the date for our next Family Day for families of deaf children on Saturday 21st September 2024 from 12pm-4pm at the British Library in London.

We have chosen the following theme for the Family Day, which we hope will be popular with families of deaf children:

Family Day: Marvellous Me - Celebrating the uniqueness of every child

Creative activities that celebrate being an individual, discovering what inspires us and makes us unique, as well as championing others and exploring untold stories.

Please come along and have a fantastic day out for FREE! More information on the programme for the Family Day will be sent out in the summer term and will also be available on the British Library's website (www.bl.uk) nearer the time.
